In publication for over thirty years, Adriatic Pilot remains the only single volume to cover the whole region, from Albania and the heel of Italy in the south to Venice and Slovenia in the north. The ever-popular cruising ground of Croatia is covered extensively in four separate chapters. This 8th edition has been fully revised to include new information on marinas, visitor moorings and anchorages, with all the attendant facilities available to cruising sailors. There is also plenty to give historical context and to whet the appetite for visits and exploration ashore. Plans have been updated throughout. Numerous photographs help to orientate, inform and inspire, including a new set of images for the Italian coast and Venice lagoon. For occasional charterers or long-term cruisers alike, Trevor and Dinah Thompson's thorough and comprehensive work should be the first choice of any cruising sailor wanting to make the most of this rich and diverse coastline.

The New York Times—bestselling series transports us to “Donna Leon’s enticing, troubled and beautiful Venice . . . Her latest mystery is one of her best” (Providence Journal). A New York Times Book Review Best Crime Book of the Year • A New York Times Book Review Editors’ Choice • A Financial Times Summer Book Pick • A Deadly Pleasures Mystery Magazine Most Anticipated Mystery of the Year Commissario Guido Brunetti is surprised by the appearance of a friend of his wife’s, fearful that her son is using drugs and hopeful Brunetti can somehow intervene. When the woman’s husband is found unconscious with a serious brain injury at the foot of a bridge in Venice after midnight, Brunetti is drawn to pursue a possible connection to the boy’s behavior. But the truth, as Brunetti has experienced so often, is not straightforward. While Brunetti pursues several false and contradictory leads, he becomes exasperated by the petty bureaucracy that constantly bedevils him and threatens to expose Signorina Elettra, his superior’s secretary. But steadied by the embrace of his own family and by his passion for the classics, he reads Sophocles’s Antigone, and, in its light, considers the terrible consequences to which the actions of a tender heart can lead. “It’s the living, bleeding humanity of the characters that makes Donna Leon’s police procedurals so engaging. . . . Tagging along after this sleuth

“By far the best” in the New York Times—bestselling, Macallan Silver Dagger—winning series featuring Venetian detective Commissario Brunetti (Evening Standard). In this vivid and atmospheric mystery, Commissario Brunetti is visited by a young bureaucrat investigating the lack of official approval for the construction of Brunetti’s apartment years before. What began as a red tape headache ends in murder when the bureaucrat is later found dead after a mysterious fall from a scaffold. Brunetti starts an investigation that will take him into the unfamiliar and dangerous areas of drug abuse and loan-sharking, and will reveal, once again, what a difference it makes in Venice to have friends in high places.

“Beautifully written and immaculately plotted, Friends in High Places is further proof still that Leon can do no wrong.” —Scotsman “Carefully plotted and full of colorful as well as sinister characters, this is crime writing of the highest order: powerful, relevant and all too full of human failings.” —The Guardian “Leon tells the story as if she loves Venice as much as her detective does, warts and all. The plot and subplots unfold elegantly; beauty and the beast march hand in hand, and the result is rich entertainment.” —The Sunday Times (London) “Leon’s best so far . . . I don’t think I could really understand a crime fan who didn’t love Donna Leon.” —Scotland on Sunday “Leon is a skillful plotter . . . Brunetti is a nicely shaded creation, a moral man who is also all too human. Friends in High Places is a splendid read, clever and provoking.” —Observer (UK)

“...ci si salva insieme... Mi è successo al pronto soccorso di aver capito questa cosa, però poi passa il tempo e ci si scorda” “Il teorema della notte dice che c’è sempre qualcosa di peggio e di meglio da raccontare” Tra le righe la Vita si palesa forse come splendido terribile anacoluto: “Il mio male è non riuscire a vivere. Un orrore. Però alle volte mi sveglio e va tutto bene” “siamo lontani e vicini insieme” “Perché chissà perché avviene una comunicazione” “Chi è più importante il malato o il medico?” “Lo sapete voi che il primo ed unico rimedio alla malattia, qualsiasi malattia è il contatto fisico?” “Le impalcature della vita son strane. Pronto Soccorso Emozionale è un modo semplice e potente per far accorgere di come e quante strade siano piastrellate di cose che non siamo: credenze, convinzioni, programmi installati da qualcun altro che forse nemmeno conosciamo. Questo ebook vi accompagnerà in un viaggio terapeutico all'interno dell'apparente caso, che si rivelerà essere un vero e proprio coaching dell'anima. Impareremo ad accorgerci di ciò che il momento dell'adesso attira, verso la via della liberazione da tutte quelle strutture che inibiscono la guarigione. Come gli sciamani, antichi uomini-medicina, viaggeremo nei territori dell'accorgersi e della meraviglia per recuperare le energie perdute lasciate nei nostri irrisolti passati e che si ripercuotono nel presente. In questo viaggio ci guarderemo con occhi nuovi, liberandoci dalle parole usate a caso e dai programmi assurdi che non ci attrezzano al nuovo e al miracoloso. Oltre il «mi piace» o «non mi piace», oltre il territorio di ciò che crediamo essere vero, esiste il mondo dell'accorgersi. Ciò che arriva alla nostra attenzione esige la nostra meraviglia, diversamente perdiamo noi stessi e il nostro tempo.

The Italian's newfound family Arriving in beautiful Sardinia to take up her new position as junior registrar, Dr. Kelly Carlyon is horrified to find her new boss is Luca Ferrero, the brooding Italian who once broke her heart. And if they are to rekindle their relationship, she needs his honesty as well as his love....

This study, which brings together and consolidates the research work of the interdisciplinary EMHAM group, is focused on the relationship among human mobility, healthcare and fairness in public healthcare and treatment. The investigation of the information produced by the Emergency Departments of the Rome Metropolitan Area has proved to be strategic in identifying the healthcare needs of foreign populations. Many of the dynamics concerning migrants can be traced back to the inappropriateness of visits and accesses to the Emergency Departments. This information, together with the result of dynamic evaluations and assessments, is useful not only for healthcare issues, but also for the demographic, socio-political and economic characterisation of the phenomenon of human mobility.

When Clare Stimpson turns-up in Modena, a beautiful city in Emilia-Romagna in northern Italy, to teach English, little does she know that she will fall in love with the country and its people, and stay there for the next four years. Clare was inspired by her mother, whose stories of her hitchhiking adventures in Sicily in 1949, fired her imagination. In the mid 1970s she decides to leave her teaching job in London and taste the dolce vita for herself. Spaghetti in my Hair tells the story of the Italian characters that Clare met. It explores some of the magical cities of Emilia-Romagna and other stunning regions of Italy. The book touches on Italian family life, the food and habits of the nation and the unstable, political atmosphere of the time. Returning to England but feeling nostalgic for the Italian experience, Clare returns to teach E.F.L. in the sublime coastal resort of San Remo on the Ligurian

Riviera. This eventually leads her back to Modena, a place she has grown to know and love. Interwoven throughout the book are stories of adventures and mishaps experienced by Clare and her friends and family. The central part of the story tells the tale of an epic journey across Italy in a small red V.W. called Doris when Clare and three other girls experience many hilarious adventures whilst driving south as far as Gargano in the region of Puglia. The final part of the story goes back in time to 1949 when Clares intrepid mother and her friend, hitchhiked to Sicily a no-mans land in those days. She recounts the tales that her mother passed down to her, including a memorable stay in jail, when the two English girls were mistaken for accomplices of the notorious bandit, Giuliano Salvatore. Spaghetti recipes included add a large glass of wine or two!

For the first time, a book considers the doctor/patient relationship in the long period and from a broad geographical perspective. Historians, anthropologists and doctors reflect on the factors that, from the Classical age until the present, have altered the care relationship and the power relations embedded within it. The book also highlights that communication and narration, understood as constitutive aspects of care, are the elements which link the past to the present. From the encounter between religion and medicine to the centuries-long struggle between doctors and patients in defence of their respective positions, from medical dramas to efforts to humanize medicine, the book describes the doctor/patient relationship in all its cultural, transnational and transtemporal dimensions.

Un'afofa sera d'estate: un'esplosione sconvolge Asti. L'incendio conseguente distrugge la APES azienda specializzata nello stoccaggio di rifiuti; nella tragedia perdono la vita due dipendenti. Contemporaneamente in un incidente avvenuto poco distante dal luogo del disastro, muore un motociclista mentre l'autista di un SUV finisce in coma. Entrambe le vittime si scoprono essere titolari della stessa azienda distrutta dall'incendio. La medesima sera, l'investigatore privato Giorgio Martinengo prende servizio come soccorritore della Croce Rossa e il suo migliore amico, il chimico Paolo Marchese, membro dell'ARPA Piemonte, deve intervenire per monitorare il potenziale pericolo d'inquinamento ambientale derivato dall'incendio, perché la funerea e irreale colonna di fumo nero come la pece che ascende al cielo della piccola città piemontese non sembra solo carta che brucia. Inizia così una lunga notte insonne, durante la quale Giorgio Martinengo si ritroverà a ricomporre un mosaico di fatti e persone in una sarabanda di morte che coinvolgerà i personaggi più inaspettati. Un vortice di faccendieri, corrotti ed ecomafie nel quale Martinengo, vittima di una insopprimibile brama di sapere, sarà coinvolto nonostante il suo inedito ruolo.

Questa raccolta racconta la vita degli strati più bassi della popolazione della Russia potente, incompleta e intraprendente. Ma i senz'atutto russi non sono scoraggiati e trovano gioia in tutto. Non c'è politica, c'è solo una vita semplice di queste persone sfortunate. Sono l'anima della Russia, un mondo parallelo e parziale in esso è aperto a tutti. Leggi e divertiti, ma non farti prendere.
